FLOWERS SCARCE FOR MEMORIAL DAY

The cold backward season has resulted in a great scarcity of spring flowers ordinarily available at this time. Very few lilacs are in bloom, the flower that is principally depended upon for Memorial Day decorations, the majority of lilac bushes being a week or two behind their usual blooming time this year. Lilacs of the valley another flower counted upon as a stand by for Memorial Day are scarce and backward this season. There are baskets of pansies in large quantities now on the market and a few potted geraniums, but a week of real warm weather is needed to bring out the buds on the lilacs and other early blooming shrubs.

Says His Prescription Has Powerful Influence Over Rheumatism

Mr. James H. Allen suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this tortuous disease left him helpless and unable to work.
He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated lactic acids, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.
With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.
He freely gave his discovery to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of arguing he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. Dr. Allen's Pharmacy has been appointed agent for Allen in this vicinity with the understanding that he will freely return the purchase money on the first two bottles to all who state they received no benefit.

Daylight Saving and the Farmers.

The city of Manchester has abandoned daylight saving by unanimous vote of the Board of Aldermen, who explain their action by saying that they find public sentiment three to one against it.

This paper has expressed the fear that daylight saving in spots would not be a good thing, and the action of Manchester and the New York Legislature in deciding to take a back track, together with agitation in other places in favor of similar action, clearly indicates that what may be called daylight saving by local option is not coming up to expectations. It was expected that Governor Smith of New York would veto the bill repealing the law in that state, but that it is not popular with a large part of the population is shown beyond question by the action of the Legislature, whose members are not in the dark concerning the attitude of their constituents.

In Massachusetts daylight saving is in effect. The Governor was not in favor of the step, but the Legislature passed the bill by a substantial majority and the Governor signed it on the ground that in such a matter he ought to respect the will of the majority. The farmers in that state and all the states were against such legislation this year, but here and there it was enacted against their protests. They told how it would interfere with production, but their objections were brushed aside at the behest of city people and mill workers who like a share of the afternoon for diversion.

When daylight saving was first introduced one of the arguments in its favor was that it would enable working people to cultivate war gardens after their regular day's work was done, as thousands did with good results. But now there is much less of this, and the probability is that it would have been better if the clocks had not been changed this year.

Governor Coolidge of Massachusetts is greatly concerned over the outlook in that state and has issued a proclamation calling upon the people to engage in gardening as vigorously as they did at the time of the war. He declares that the food stocks of the country are low and that the need of production was never greater. Already there are predictions—very wild it is to be hoped—that the country will yet see "85 wheat," and it is a matter of common knowledge that the shortage of farm help is a serious handicap to the farmers, some of whom are reported to be so disgusted with daylight saving and conditions generally that they will not attempt to operate on the usual scale.

As this paper has before stated, it does not believe there is cause for alarm with reference to agricultural production; yet it does believe that the farmers should be given every encouragement and that it would have been good policy to heed their protests against daylight saving, which beyond all question is a detriment to them. It would have been good policy because of this undisputed fact and because it would have shown consideration for a class of producers who are being urged in thirder tones to do their best. As a Boston paper puts it, "We talk of threatened shortage of food products, and yet the Legislature of Massachusetts kicks the farming element in the face." That is the way the farmers feel, and it is a condition that could have been avoided without hardship to other classes of workers.

Many believe that this will be the last year of daylight saving, and without doubt it will be just as well if it is.

When W. Murray Crane of Massachusetts retires from the Republican National Committee, as he will at the next national convention, that body will realize that it has lost a working member of more than ordinary ability to cause things to be done. Mr. Crane is not a talker, but in accomplishment he has few equals and no superiors.

The resignation of Raymond B. Stevens as vice chairman of the United States Shipping Board to enter the race for United States senator from this state on the Democratic ticket will add interest to what promises to be a very strenuous campaign in New Hampshire next fall.

Prohibition enforcement officers are already complaining of defects in the Volstead Act and saying that it needs "ironing out." Can it be that national prohibition is to sink to the miserable level that was reached in most of the states that have tried prohibition in the past?

The American Federation of Labor wants an "overturn in Congress." The "wets" are also ready for something of an "overturn," with the result that some of the members have already gone as far in that direction as to be standing on their heads.

With hard coal at present prices it is not reassuring to consumers to be told that a stiff advance in the wages of the miners is in prospect, for they know who will pay the difference, and more, too.

Once more it has been demonstrated that the man who becomes president of Mexico literally "takes his life in his hands."

COMMENT

Scrambling the Fashions.

(From the Washington Star.)
If society men disposed to promote economy insist on wearing overalls the less prosperous citizens may have to be content to appear in cast off evening clothes.

Who Hath Ears, Let Him Hear

Governor Coolidge's message on the production of foodstuffs in Massachusetts applies to every State in New England.

Punky Timber

Banning on your own private platform, as Senator France of Maryland suggests, is not a bad idea provided you have the necessary leisure and inclination, but as far as getting the nomination is concerned you might as well walk the plank at once.

Sugar

Facts are accumulating which go to prove that there is no real shortage of sugar in the United States, and no legitimate reason for the exorbitant prices. Some circumstances indeed indicate—and the evidence on this head is likely to appear in cases now under judicial investigation—that a great quantity of crude sugar has gone into refineries which has not come upon the market in due time as refined sugar. What becomes of it? The allegations of hoarding and speculation urgently demand a thorough investigation. The people have begun to suspect very strongly that they have been trifled with, or conspired against, in this matter of the market supply and price of sugar.

If there are any dealers or manufacturers who have been forestalling the market, and turning actual abundance into the semblance of scarcity, they should be taught that the time has gone by when that form of speculation at the public's expense can be tolerated.

Wants Hoover in the Cabinet

(From the New York Tribune.)
A number of our readers are writing to suggest that Mr. Hoover be nominated for Vice President on the Republican ticket with General Wood. We have much sympathy with a proposal that would fill the vice presidency with a figure of Mr. Hoover's ability. This office has been too often the resting place of second-rate men chosen for every other reason than their fitness to step into the White House.

But in Mr. Hoover's case there are special considerations which we think should control. We can conceive of no Republican President not a reactionist, or a little American who would not be glad to have Mr. Hoover in his cabinet in a post of high responsibility. An Secretary of Commerce, for example, Mr. Hoover could do work for his country of the greatest value; work, too, for which his experience peculiarly fits him. It is largely because the Republican party has such men as Mr. Hoover available for cabinet posts that the country is so plainly resolved to insist upon a change of party at Washington.

There cannot be too much discussion of the vice presidency. The Chicago convention owes an obligation to the whole country to name a first-rate man for the post. We hope, however, that it will be possible to keep Mr. Hoover available for such cabinet as the whole country would be glad to see him undertake.

PEOPLE'S OPINIONS

Memorial Day

Editor of the Portsmouth Herald:
Memorial Day is undoubtedly the most impressive of all our nationally observed holidays, due to the solemnity and memories the exercises of the day so vividly portray to our minds.

Most of us have dear ones who have passed from this life to the great beyond leaving us but memories of their achievements. Let us remember them on this Memorial Day by decorating their graves and offering a prayer of heavenly and we may consider the day well spent.

Portsmouth deserves great credit for her observances of Memorial Day as will be noted by all who have had occasion to witness the parade of soldier boys, sailor boys, social organizations, Spanish war veterans, and last but not least the G. A. R., those old boys whose ranks are depleted, but the remaining few are a source of inspiration to the younger generation of veterans.

The parade this year and exercises in conjunction with it should be more impressive this year than ever before, due to the first appearance of the world war veterans as a whole, many having not returned on the Memorial Day of last year.

Hoping the public will turn out in huge numbers to demonstrate their appreciation of the veterans of all our wars, and thereby create a feeling of satisfaction among them I will close this correspondence with a hearty good wish for the veterans.

ATTENDED MEETING AT DURHAM

Portsmouth was well represented at the seventh annual meeting of the State Parent-Teachers' Association at Durham on Wednesday. Through the kindness of Frederick Gardner, president of the Parent-Teachers' Association of the Lafayette school and Mrs. Emmet M. Morrison, Mrs. Joseph Conner, Mrs. Albert Garland, Miss Alice Midram, Miss Jessa McDaniel, Mrs. Rammer and Miss Pearl Hott.

The program which was published in the Herald early this week, proved interesting and helpful. One of the most able addresses was given by Mrs. E. M. Barney, editor of the Massachusetts T. T. Bulletin, and which dealt altogether with problems of Parent-Teachers' Association work. In her talk Mrs. Barney said the Parent-Teachers' Association was the best or-

YANKEE 'ADS' OPEN EYES OF GERMANS

Berlin, May 26.—Germans marvel at American magazines especially at the advertisements. A writer in a Berlin paper tells of finding his eyes on the pictures of food in a popular American weekly.

"Who has to advertise ham in order to get rid of it in Germany?" he facetiously asks. "That the unfortunate American who has a ham to sell must first buy, for a dreadful lot of money, a whole page in a magazine and, at another terrible price, hire an artist to paint a picture of his ham."

The writer rhapsodizes over that picture, however. He tells his readers what the ham looked like:

"A cross section. White layers of fat. Salmon pink flesh, with streaks of fat like the rays of the sun."

It amazed him to find that, in addition to the picture, the owner of the ham "dared" to sing its praises in sweet words.

"How we pity," he exclaims, "the American who possesses a ham!" Turning over the pages, the writer came upon an advertisement of rubber sales. Evidently he thought they were used for the purpose the Germans make of their "sole-sparers."

"Don't imagine," he goes on, "that these American sole-sparers are the kind we have in Germany, made of iron. Not a bit of it. They are made of rubber!" An idea of how scarce and dear rubber is in Germany may be gathered from the writer's statement that "the cost of these American sole-sparers, computed in our value, would be as great as that of a trip in a railway train from Berlin to Hamburg, with one day in a hotel besides."

SAYS CUBA IS HOLDING 650,000 TONS SUGAR

New York, May 26.—A prediction that the price of sugar would soar to 27 or 28 cents a pound within 48 hours was made today by Raymond W. Wilson, sugar broker, testifying before the Senate committee investigating alleged profiteering in sugar and other commodities.

This statement follows the disclosure by George Henry Pinley, another witness, that more than $250,000,000 has been loaned by American banks to concerns in Cuba to enable them to hold sugar.

Mr. Pinley testified that about 650,000 tons of sugar were being held in Cuban ports. Asked whether he thought the bankers took this action in order to wait for further rises in prices, Mr.

PARSONS THE HATTER

Pinley answered in the affirmative.

He said the National City Bank in Havana would lend $25 a bag on raw sugar thus stored, while other banks lent as much as $50 a bag.

Asked for other information in his possession which might throw light on the existing high prices, he called attention to 400,000 tons of sugar not previously counted in the estimates of the available supply, which, he said, brings the total amount of sugar available to refiners in Cuba up to 1,000,000 tons.

Howard Gilmore of Westboro says he has about 3000 peach trees on his fruit and poultry farm, and not a bud on any of them.

would indicate that the dog population is falling off. City Clerk L. V. Goss who issues the licenses notes that the number to date is below the average. One explanation given is the high cost of living. It costs so much under the prevailing prices to feed a man and his family that the average citizen evidently cannot afford to keep a dog. It is claimed it costs as much to feed a good sized dog as it does a human being.

ENTIRE LIST TO BE PUBLISHED

Names of Every Man From
This City in Army and Navy During Civil War.

The coming of Memorial Day brings to many people of Portsmouth the thought of those who gave their lives in the dark days of '61 to '65 that the Union might live. Portsmouth will as usual honor her heroic dead with appropriate exercises. With this day in mind it would be interesting to know how many Portsmouth men served in the army and navy and followed the flag on land and sea. They were many and all good men.

The Herald on Friday will publish the entire list of those who served in the companies and regiments of New Hampshire and those from this city who enlisted in other states. Hardly a ship of the navy during the Civil war was without a man from Portsmouth. Many of them were medal of honor men and sailors and fighters of the old school.

Cut out the list from your Friday's paper. It will be something worth saving.

HOLY CROSS LOSES GAME TO HARVARD

Horan and Goode, Former Sunset League Stars, Oppose Each Other in Pitchers' Duel.

Boston, Mass., May 27.—Harry Hooper and Babe Ruth aren't the only ball players who can break up ball games with home runs. At Harvard yesterday another "buster" stepped into the limelight and won the Crimson the first of its series of games with Jesse Burckett's club from Holy Cross. The man who made the clean-up is Jeff Jones, native of Harwich, the big fellow, who only a few days ago because of the hitting ability he had been showing as a member of the Harvard scrubs, was brought up to the varsity by Coach Jack Slattery.

Jones' homer was a lively blow sent out to left center field where Leo Dugan gave chase but could not retrieve the ball in time.

The game, the fastest that has been played on Soldiers' Field this spring, was a battle between pitchers Eddie Goode and Bill Horan. Against the latter the Crimson produced only two hits besides Jones' winning single, both being made by Halliwell. One was a scratchy affair to shortstop Gagnon, Brown's former football star, but the other was a clean drive to center. Against Goode, Holy Cross made five singles, combining once but for no satisfactory result.

While taking no credit from Jones, however, Holy Cross was entitled to a better break. Really the seventh inning drive by Jeff should have produced a one to one score for the Crimson, for in the visitor's fourth, Jesse Burckett's outfit was entitled to a one run lead.

Altogether it was the steadiest game on the Cambridge field this year and about the best played. Both pitchers were steady and generally had good support. Horan fanned eight batters and Goode three, while passes were scarce.

The game is of especial interest to Portsmouth baseball fans, due to the fact that both Horan and Goode played in last season's Sunset League. Horan with the Atlantic Corporation and Goode with the P. A. C.

CUBS WIN FROM SO. ENDS

The Cubs won their first game in the Junior Sunset league on Wednesday evening, by a score of 7 to 3. The Cubs are the youngest team of the league. They played a good sharp game hitting the three pitchers of the South End in line shape. The games will be played at six o'clock until the Senior league starts, and the games will then be played at the Lafayette playground.

The line up and the score by innings:

Cubs—Gustafson c, Lee p-rs, Call 3b, McDonald 1b, Phipps ss-p, Conover 2b, Gilmore cf, Trefethen lf, Noel rf.

South Ends—Shannon cf, Davis lf, Hooper 3b, Levi cf, Newell ss, Gelman c, Billows 2b, Garland 1b, Young p.

Innings 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
Cubs 0 1 3 0 3 0 0 7 10 2
So. Ends 9 1 2 0 0 0 0 3 7 3

EXETER

Exeter, May 26.—Word was received here today by War Historian John W. A. Green that the body of Fred Lake who died in England during the service was shipped from Hoboken, N. J., May 26, and will probably arrive here tomorrow.

The body was sent across from England where he died of pneumonia in 1918. It is the only body of Exeter's soldiers who died in the service to be sent home.

It is probable that a military funeral will be held later in the week for him.

The body of George, Thankful Hill, widow of Trueworthy Hill, who died at the Exeter Cottage hospital Monday, 77 years of age, was this afternoon taken to Deedsfield by Undertaker E. L. Jenkins for funeral and burial.

The Moses N. Collins Relief Corps was given a benefit performance this evening at the town theatre, when the attraction was the "Lone Star Ranger."

APPRECIATIVE OF THE HERALD'S AID

U. S. Army Recruiting Station,
463 Congress St.,
Portland, Me.

Editor Herald:
I desire to thank you in the name of the Recruiting service for your assistance during our recruiting advertising campaign in your city.

It is the desire of this office to obtain every man possible for the United States Army. We feel that in doing this we are benefiting both the Army and the young man who enlists.

The Army of today is equipped with all the facilities for giving its members a complete educational and vocational training. The man who is receiving the pay and doing the work of a common laborer, can by serving an enlistment in the Army and pursuing some one of the many vocational courses offered free of cost by the Government, become a specialist in some line of work, increasing his earning power and making him more contented and a better citizen of our country. The man who for some reason or other has been unable to acquire even the rudiments of an education can obtain sufficient education in the Army to carry on any kind of business that he may choose. The Army will give to any man who will take advantage of the opportunity the equal of a high school education not only free of cost but pay him good pay at the same time.

We feel that we are working in a good cause, and believe that we may count upon your support in our efforts to get young men to enlist in the Army. Again thanking you for your generous assistance and for your interest in recruiting for the Army, I am,

Yours very truly,
THOS. RIDGWAY,
Col. U. S. A., Retired,
Recruiting Officer.

BURGLARS ARE WORKING AGAIN AROUND KITTERY

Force Entrance in Four Places But Get Nothing for Their Work.

Once more the burglars have begun operations in Kittery but so far they have not been rewarded and evidently have been doing a lot of work for nothing. Their latest work was at the residence of Thomas Fisher at Rice Hollow, Edward Chase and Elmer home on Government street, and Elmer Commander Logan at Kittery Point. At every house the entrance was made in the same way by forcing windows. Whoever did the various jobs must be new in the game or were affected by cold feet while in action, for not a thing was reported missing from either place.

The inmates of the homes were aroused by the noise they made which likely caused them to quit. At the several places visited no one saw the burglars.

Following the break at the Logan house, Deputy Sheriff Boardman went on the spot in a very few minutes after the people discovered that thieves had got in but he was unable to get a line on anything that would throw any light on the attempted home raid.

THE EUREKA IS IN FINE SHAPE

Veterans Throw Water 180 Feet With Only 30 Men on Brakes.

The Veteran Firemen took the old hand tub Eureka out on Wednesday night for a shake-down and she worked off slick. With the new painting and other improvements and only 30 men on the brakes, the tub did throw some water.

Official tape measurements showed that the machine has got to be reckoned with the big ones. Her stream covered 180 feet without a hitch and the boys felt pretty good over the work.

If this regulated number, 80 men, had been stripped and on the brakes, the tub would likely have broke all previous records. On with the good work boys and you will bring home the bacon from Portland on July 3.

The work out on Wednesday was under the supervision of Foreman H. W. Gray.

SHOULD GIVE IT SOME ATTENTION

Rocks in Depot Ave. Highway Should Be Removed.

Depot Avenue, a small but important highway off Deer street, is in a dangerous condition on account of the large rocks protruding the surface.

When Deer street was paved, the several big stones were dumped there by the city or the Boston and Maine and now neither the city or the railroad claims any right to remove them.

Either one or the other should take pride enough in the city to get these rocks out of the way before an accident occurs.

Nature has now "set the stage" for the straw hat and we are "all set" for the buyers of them. The "sailor" block is as usual the favorite and our exhibit of them includes various width "braids," from wide to fine, and several different widths of brim and heights of crown which constitute "proportions." A variety of proportions enables us to "fit your features" as well as your head. $2.50, $3.00, $3.50, $4.00, $5.00.
